PLANS FAST MAIL SERVICE.

Rebbi Sigmund Frey Claims He Has
Car That Will Travel Over 200
Miles an Hour.

Rebbi Sigmund Frey, of Wabash, Ind., who has proposed to transmit postal matter to Europe in two days, was invited to explain his invention, but beyond a few hints declined to go into details until he received advice from Washington.

"I have," he said, "made the offer, but supposed that my attorney alone knew of it. It would interfere with my plans were I to state just how I purpose to achieve the results, but my scheme is feasible."

"I have been in conference with a celebrated electrician, working out my ideas, and have progressed to a point where I may put it to a practical test. Electricity will be the motive power and the vehicle will be a car, which, with safety, may travel over sea and land at a speed of from 200 to 300 miles an hour."

"If the government sees fit to make a conditional contract with me I expect to demonstrate the success of my invention at an early date."

"I am irritated that the matter has gotten into the newspapers, but I hope to take the work up in earnest with the post office department. Until the contract is made I must refuse to particularize."

Ons Off His Friend's Bar.
"Count Gabriel Kepezy, a first lieutenant in one of the Honored Hussar regiments," said a dispatch to the London Daily Mail from Budapest, "has been formally degraded in Szeged before the whole regiment. He made a dining bet that he would cut off the right ear of one of his best friends, Caspar Kanyo, with his saber. He then approached the unsuspecting Kanyo and slashed off the ear."

"Kanyo shot at Kepezy with his revolver, but missed him. Then, turning to the mirror and seeing himself without the ear, he turned his revolver against himself and fell dead. The colonel in degrading Kepezy warned the officers of the regiment against debauchery and drunkenness."

JAPAN IS UP TO DATE.

Rich of the Country Growing Richer and the Poor Poorer.

Baron Hisaya Iwasaki Says His Nation is Ready to Profit by Example of Other Nations in Solution of Industrial Problems.

Baron Hisaya Iwasaki, who is said to be one of the wealthiest of the mikado's subjects, has just sailed for England from New York with two of his brothers and three other fellow-countrymen. In discussing the condition of Japan, he said that in his native land the rich were growing richer and the poor growing poorer.

"Have you any poor in Japan?" he was asked.

"We have," he answered, "and they are continually increasing in numbers. The rich are growing richer and the poor poorer, although the change is gradual. It is due to the introduction of the new industrial system."

The Baron said he was glad to see the new system introduced, but he did not like the accompanying disparity between the rich and the poor. When asked if anybody had hit on a remedy, he said:

"That will have to be found by political economists, won't it?" Then he added, with a smile:

"Do you think you have solved the problem here? Perhaps the only real remedy is socialism. We shall be glad to see you put one into effect and then we may follow your example."

Right Rev. John McKim, Episcopal missionary bishop of Tokio, Japan, has arrived in New York on his way to the general convention of his church, which is to be held in San Francisco early in the fall. Bishop McKim, speaking of the religious conditions in Japan at the present time, said:

"The religious awakening of which we in Japan have heard so much, can hardly be regarded as of permanent benefit. Some years ago there was a similar one, but its effects soon died out. The Japanese are a very excitable race; they are quickly brought to religious white heat, cooling off again almost as quickly. As a rule, after a revival movement, the percentage of those falling away from Christianity is greater than before."

"The Japanese, too, are a very indifferent race in regard to religious matters generally. Nominally, they are almost all Buddhists, with perhaps

PACIFIC OCEAN TURNS RED.

A Most Remarkable Phenomenon is Witnessed Along the California Coast.

Following the earthquake shocks that visited the California coast peculiar phenomena have developed in the Pacific ocean. Within a distance of 65 miles along the Los Angeles county shore line the waters, heretofore clear and of the usual greenish color, have become a terra cotta red. This color line extends off shore for several miles, and is so distasteful to the fish family that they have gone far into the ocean to seek clearer waters. At night this colored sea water gives off a phosphorescent light that enables one to read average print.

At certain points along the beach the water has turned into sweet water that can be drunk. No theory is advanced except that in the Pacific, off the coast, the earthquake opened a fissure that forces fresh water and colored matter to the surface, and the latter is drifting to the shore. A tidal wave followed the earthquake.

See Thrilling Adventure.

Daniel Griggs, the son of former Attorney General John W. Griggs, has recently had some thrilling experiences on the borders of Mexico, where he was sent by the international boundary commission, with Chief Engineer Cunningham. Six weeks ago the two started down the Rio Grande river. Soon after passing El Paso Mr. Cunningham was bitten by a moccasin and his life was threatened. They pushed on, however, and 30 miles below Eagle Pass Mr. Cunningham was upset and he was drowned. Griggs was unable to recover the body and he returned to Eagle Pass for assistance. In passing through a canyon Mr. Griggs' boat was upset and he was carried down the long canyon clinging to the side of the frail craft.

a sprinkling of Shintolans, but it can be safely said that Japan has no national church.

"Success in missionary effort depends largely upon the proper organization of the system of management. For that reason Methodist workers in Japan are more successful than the Baptists. Congregationalists are not now making the progress that was made by that body some years ago. Congregationalist policy seems to be one of disintegration, and many of its converts become rationalists. Our church appears to be making more headway and what appears to be more permanent progress than any other body."

CAN'T SECURE CHEAP POSTAGE

By New Rating of Post Office Returned Copies of a Paper Are Shot Out from Pound Rates.

Under the old regulations it was possible for a newsdealer to send back unsold copies of a second-class paper to another newsdealer at the pound rate. This privilege was not extended to the office of publications, as the regulations were drafted, and it was supposed to have been made in the interest of the large news companies, which in that way could control considerable circulation of the newspapers because they could receive back unsold copies from their agents at the pound rate, while the publishers would have to pay four times as much.

There has been a feeling in congress that this application of pound rates to the return of unsold copies, either to news agents or to publishers, was a perversion of the original law, which was intended to keep down the price to actual subscribers and was not meant to reduce the expenses of the office of publication.

The order issued by the postmaster general recently prevents the return of unsold copies at the rate of one cent per pound. They will have to pay the regular rate of one cent for four ounces, the same as ordinary newspapers and periodicals mailed by individuals. This prohibition as to the unsold copies applies both to the news agents and the publishers.

DOGES' PALACE IN PERIL.

Historic Edifice in Venice Threatened by the Waters of the Adriatic.

Recent cablegrams from Venice announce that the historic city is in immediate danger of being engulfed by the waters of the Adriatic. For some days a conference has been in progress attended by the highest engineering authorities of Italy, who are endeavoring to formulate some plan by which the beautiful city can be protected from the sea. The members agree that the danger is pressing in the extreme.

The experts have decided that the palace of the doges is in extreme peril. The majestic structure faces the lagoon and nothing but the low esplanade called the Riva degli Schiavoni intervenes between it and the waters of the sea, which at high tide during the stormy season cover the promenade and inundate the lower floor of the palace. Gradually the stout foundations of the majestic edifice have been undermined until now there is cause for the gravest apprehension as to its stability.

The "Palazzo Ducale" was first built in 820. This structure, the scene of so many stirring events in Venetian history, was burned in 1619. The palace was rebuilt under Mocenigo and Foscarini. In a "restored" form it still stands. "The first hammer stroke upon the old palace of Ziani," says Ruskin, "was the first act of the period properly called the 'Renaissance.' It was the knell of the architecture of Venice—and of Venice itself."

Law School to be Continued.

The trustees of the new Central University of Danville met in Lexington, Sept. 3. After the installation of the trustees all actions taken at former times were ratified by the trustees. It was decided that the law school should be continued, but that it should be run under different management from the literary college, and that the trustees of the university should not be held accountable for its expenses. Owing to this there was no means to insure the paying of salaries of the professors, so that ex-Governor Knott, the former dean of the school, and C. R. Breckinridge, who were offered the place, have declined to accept under these terms. Marion Davis, of St. Louis, has been offered the place, and is likely to accept.

ELSEWHERE under the caption, "Mrs. Potts Explains," we publish a card from that lady in reference to her letter to the Lexington Morning Herald, and our remarks about certain parts of it. Now, as we said last week, we do not believe that Mrs. Potts intended to insult the mountain people, but in substituting the word "vacuity" for "voracity" it seems to us that, judged from an intellectual standpoint, she adds insult to injury. She says nothing about the terms "expressionless" and "only a blank behind," to which we made objection, and then tells us that vacuity should have been used instead of voracity, which is only another term to indicate idiocy, certainly, in the sense she uses it. She says she did not refer to our settlement or our school. But she was writing from Wolfe county, and THE HERALD being cosmopolitan takes in not only the county but all the mountain country, and when she assails the mountain people she treads upon our toes. While not a native we have cast our lot with these people. We are one of them, and a fling at one of them is felt by us as keenly as though we were united by ties of blood. We know their virtues and their vices, and while we are always ready to defend the one we are just as willing to admit the other. But Mrs. Potts picked a case, as we suggested last week, and applied it to the natives as a class. That is wrong, and no one knows it better than she, for while some of the best people on God's footstool live in Lexington, it would not do to dig down for a type that can there be found and apply the character to all her citizens. Mrs. Potts was writing for pastime and pandering to the tastes of "society," and her explanation could easily have been couched in the sentence, "I did not expect my letter to meet the scrutiny of mountain people." At least we are generous enough to think so, and to reiterate that she had no intent of insulting people of the mountains. Her wrong was in classing the natives according to a type she had in mind, and the precedent might prove pernicious. In a nutshell, too many people away from here labor under the belief that mountaineers are horned and hoofed, as it were, and the sooner that view is vanquished the better for all.

Send us $1 for THE HERALD.

FRIDAY last being president's day at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, New York, President McKinley and wife, a niece of the president and two nieces of Mrs. McKinley, accompanied by Private Secretary Cortelyou, were at the exposition. The president was receiving his friends and shaking hands with many of his countrymen when a man stepped up who had one hand wrapped in a handkerchief, shook hands with the president and fired twice directly at the president. The first shot struck the breast bone, flattened and fell harmless. But the second shot struck him in the abdomen four inches to the right of the naval. The president when shot only remarked "God have mercy upon you," and asked for his wife. The assassin was seized by two secret service men present and a negro, who had just shaken hands with the president, and hurried away to a place of confinement. The president's wounds were examined and pronounced fatal. But since that encouraging reports as to his condition are being sent out and the excitement has subsided. The assassin claims to be an anarchist, and that he was prompted to the deed from hearing an incendiary lecture by Emma Goldman, a leader of the anarchists. He says he had no accomplice, and did the deed in the cause of anarchy. This, however, is believed to be only partly true, and anarchists all over the country are being watched. There can now be no doubt as to the president's recovery and it is another evidence of the efficacy of prayer for the physician's first announced that there was no hope. Then it was that the christian people prayed the Almighty that our chief executive might be spared to his people and He in His wisdom has granted their request. The name of the assassin is Leon F. Czolgosz, and he claims Detroit, Mich., as his home. There is talk of expelling Emma Goldman and others of her ilk from our country, and every true American will vote aye to the move.

Mrs. Potts' Explanation.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 9.
DEAR EDITOR:—A marked copy of THE HERALD has come to me, in which I am severely attacked and ignominiously routed because of a letter written by me from Torment to the Lexington Morning Herald. I regret that you quoted the objectionable paragraph with its typographical errors. The most cursory glance of the educated eye should have detected that "voracity" could not have been the word intended. As the lines stand I am merely made to say that the mountain countenance looks hungry or gluttonous. What I did say in the original copy was that "the utter vacuity of the mountain countenance as it has appeared to me, is a study."

I referred not to your settlements or your schools. I am fully aware of the work of development that is going on among your people, and am a regular contributor both of cash and traveling literature to that worthy cause. I was not speaking of possibilities, but of existing facts, as I saw them. After that letter was written, I was piloted to church at Zachariah by an exceedingly intelligent old mountain gentleman. There I met a most interesting congregation, and had the pleasure in the evening of joining in the worship when, at my own request, they came over en masse and held service at Torment.

You do me justice when you say I am kindly disposed. I would not wilfully or willingly offend. I may add that in a lifetime of writing for the press, this seems to be the first instance of thoughtless comment. I am sorry if I have wounded anybody's feelings; and yet, if you had met the people I met, at the date of my letter, and had seen what I saw, you would probably have said what I said, if indeed you said anything at all, which is "where it comes in."

Fraternalty yours,
EUGENIA D. POTTS.

Henry Pieratt bought all the picture frames the agent of the Chicago Portrait Co. had left over and is selling them 50 per cent cheaper than the agent sold them. The number is limited, and if you want one you'd better move in a hurry, as they are going like hot cakes.

The annual meeting of the Christian church will begin today at Salem and hold over Sunday.

Tip Day Kills Another Man.

The report comes to us that Tip Day, who shot and killed Howard Wilson, and who has since been a fugitive from justice, on Sunday last shot a young man by the name of Millard Ledford, a second or third cousin of his. This, however, appears to have been an accident, and it seems that they were really on good terms. Day, from all accounts, is a man of wonderful magnetism, and through personal friendship he has built up a following in Menefee county which includes nearly all who know him, so that he makes no attempt to get away and relies upon his friends to keep him informed of any move against him, which they do. Personally, also, he is said to be "a jolly good fellow," in the language of one who knows him. That he is a man of nerves there is no question. Ledford died from the shot in a short time.

Slood Death Off.

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a gravedigger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50 cents at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drugstores.

Ground Broke for the Academy.

Mr. Clark, of the firm of Clark & Howard, who have the contract for building the academy, was here Saturday and remained until Monday, when he laid off the foundation, the dimensions being 77x55 feet. John M. Rose has the contract for excavating for the basement, which will be four feet below and four feet above ground, and above this will be two story including an assembly room to seat 500 people. The National Feather Washing Company, which is located with us at present and will be here for some time with their new process of washing, have met with much favor among our people as last week's work shows, they having cleaned ninety (90) beds during the week, and they will do equally as well this week, if not better. They cleaned two beds for the editor and his better seven-eighths, and we take pleasure in recommending them. Their ad in next week's issue will be of especial interest to you. Watch for it as it will bear testimony from our best citizens.

INTERSTATE FAIR.

The First Exhibition of the Kind Ever Given in the South.

The first interstate fair ever given in the South will take place at the grounds of the New Louisville Jockey Club, Louisville, Ky., beginning Sept. 23rd and closing Oct. 5th.

Exhibits of all kinds, including live stock, poultry, cereals, and manufactured articles will be shown.

It is expected that every southern state will be represented in some of the departments. Already, the fair has attracted outside attention, and entries are being received every day for the various classes. Live stock exhibits will undoubtedly be the most complete the South has ever seen. The live stock committee has offered fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars in premiums and purses which has attracted entries from nearly ten states. The Hereford and Short Horn Record Association have added five thousand ($5,000) dollars to the premium money to be distributed among these classes of cattle. Special prizes have been also offered for horses, sheep and swine.

Another feature of the fair attracting extraordinary attention from the young people of the South is the athletic program. Five thousand ($5,000) dollars has been offered in prizes to the winners.

Record-breakers—It is open to all amateurs of the United States, and every event will number its contestants a holder of a world's record. The program will consist of running races, relay races, hurdle race, shot-put, hammer throw, pole vault, broad jump, high jump and discus throw.

The association has arranged a complete midway for which some of the very Vaudeville performers of the United States have been engaged. Will S. Heck, a prominent theatrical manager of Cincinnati, has this feature in charge, and he has spent some weeks in New York in engaging talent. Some of the theatricals of the fair will be: The Japanese theatre, Turkish theatre, the streets of the Orient, animal arena, congress of dancing girls, German village and a number of high class Vaudeville shows. The Midway will be kept open night and day giving the visitors an opportunity to see the fair in the afternoon and evening.

The railroads have been very liberal in matter of rates and have granted one fare for the round trip from all the prominent points in Kentucky. These tickets will be on sale the first three days of each week and will be limited to return three days after the fair.

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little menstrual disorders started at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are filling graveyards proves this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

Miss Della M. Strayer, Tully, Kan. "I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything, in fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with the result that I feel for what you have done for me."

GALOPPOFF THE TALKING PONY

By Tudor Jenks Author of "Imaginations," "The Boy's Book of Explorations," etc.

Pictures by Howard R. Cort; 12mo, cloth, handsome cover design, 12 full page illustrations—$1.00.

There is no doubt as to Mr. Jenks' position in literature; he is one of the most amusing of present-day writers, and all he gives us is good reading. His books are sources of delight from beginning to end, and favorites among parents who judiciously select what their children shall read.

"Galopoff" is a story of modern child-life, and in telling it the author has done his work not only well, but delightfully well. All the characters he introduces are lovable and likable—all but Guggins, and his "brief hour" is so brief that we do not mind him in the least. He simply has to be in the book, for the author's quick sense of humor must present a foil to agreeable people, young and old, that his vigorous imagination has conjured up. So we are glad to have Guggins, and Galopoff enjoyed him, too.

It would be very hard to find two more charming little girls than Lola and Pauline. They deserve the pleasant surroundings Mr. Jenks has given them, and they deserve Galopoff—was there ever such another creature as Galopoff, so amusing and so talented, with a convincing philosophy and descriptive powers equal to any demands upon them? And Patrick; how he did enjoy catching that fish—"The fish that laughed in me face!"

The book is a series of delightful incidents, and vivacious conversations between the little girls and the talking pony; and in the telling of each the well known artistic touch of the author is easily discerned. It is a book for young people to read and love; fresh, real, and amusing from first to last; and it is beautifully illustrated, for the artist accepted the commission with an enthusiasm and perfect appreciation that have produced the happiest results.

In short, "Galopoff, the Talking Pony" is Mr. Jenks' delightful fancy at its best. To read it is to spend some very pleasant hours, and to be better for the recreation. It is a modern book for modern young folks, as enjoyable as "Black Beauty," or "Alice in Wonderland."—Henry Altman Company Philadelphia.

Many physicians are now prescribing Kodol Dyspepsia Cure regularly having found that it is the best prescription they can write, because it is the one preparation which contains the elements necessary to digest, not only some kinds of food, but all kind, and it therefore cures indigestion and dyspepsia no matter what its cause.

His Will Contested.

Frank Brown recently died in California, worth $100,000. He made bequests to several parties in Grant county, Ky., to the amount of $25,000. The remainder of his property was left to John Brown, who lives in Cincinnati. Proceedings have been taken to contest the will. J. C. Tomlin, of Walton, will manage the suit for the contestants from this end of the line, while a California attorney has been employed to look after matters at that end.

Norris Silver, North Stratford, N. H.: "I purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure when suffering with a cough, doctors told me was incurable. One bottle relieved me, the second and third almost cured. Today I am a well man."

A Plutocrat Panper.

Mary Nolan, who has long been begging on the streets of Louisville, was arrested Sept. 8 as a vagrant. On the way to the jail she complained of her extreme poverty. When searched, despite vigorous protests, it was found that she had $467 secreted in the skirt of her dress. The money was in greenbacks and coins of all kinds and denominations.

Henry Braydon, Harris, N. C., says: "I took medicine 20 years for asthma but one bottle of One Minute Cough Cure did me more good than any thing else during that time. Best Cough Cure."

May Be Impeached.

A report from Frankfort says there is a likelihood that the next legislature may be asked to impeach certain judges in South-eastern Kentucky for their refusal to deliver up to justice Berry Howard and John Powers, who stand indicted for complicity in the Goebel assassination. One Judge, it is urged, released Powers under illegal habeas corpus proceedings, and another and higher Judge saw Berry Howard enter his courtroom with the sheriff and did not cause his arrest, though the sheriff at that time had a bench warrant in his pocket for Howard's arrest from the Franklin Circuit Court.

Divorced In Old Age.

Rev. D. J. K. Maddox, a well-known minister, whose home is in Ohio county, last week filed a suit for divorce at Owensboro. The action was venue there because it is the place of the wife's residence. The ground alleged is abandonment. Some time ago a committee of his church, before whom Rev. Maddox brought the matter, justified his separation from his wife, but the facts were kept from the public. Mrs. Maddox is a second wife, and the minister is an old man.

December and June.

William Payne, aged 85, a wealthy farmer living near the Woodford county line, last Wednesday at Ashland, Ky., was wedded to Miss Lou C. Rozell, of Lexington, aged 50. READ THE TESTIMONY OF TWO WELL KNOWN CITIZENS OF WOLFE.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.: I purchased some of the Vita-Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half-pint of the Vita-Ore Elixir my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vita-Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the grandest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vita-Ore of you and give it a fair trial, I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY. I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vita-Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use. (MRS.) SOUTHEY LACY. Lacy Creek, Ky., June 1, 1901.
